

Holy Cross has a new website. Check it out!

The Communications Committee has been updating the parish website, moving it to a new template on a new platform that will make it easier to post and find content.

The web team will continue to tweak and add content, but we decided it was time to make the switch. I invite you to check it out and let us know what you think, in person or on our Facebook and Twitter accounts. You can follow links to those two social sites from the new website.

The new site has news feeds from several quality Catholic news and faith-related content, links to parish forms and our Giving Online program, and two blogs: the Fr. Andy's Corner and Parish News & Announcements. You will click these links to get to the blogs now, or find them under the Communications tab on the website, right above the latest headlines.

I invite you to view those to see opportunities at Holy Cross for prayer and reflection during this time of Lent, including the following:

- Stations of the Cross at 7 PM, starting this Friday, Feb. 12
- Soup and Spirituality, 6:30-8 PM, starting Feb. 17
- Pilgrimage of the Relics of St. Maximilian Kolbe, Mar. 4-6

You can download a pdf of the full Lenten schedule from the News & Announcements blog. (You can also download a pdf of this newsletter.)

We know that not everyone gets their information online nor through email, so I ask that you help us reach those who don't. With their permission, please send us their contact information [name, phone and street address] and we will work out an alternative. They also can call the parish office and ask to be put on a paper updates list.

I hope to see you at some of the various opportunities for spiritual growth and renewal scheduled at Holy Cross for this Lenten season. Details are at <http://holycrossdurham.org/>.

Peace
Fr. Andy
